A Part of the Cooperative Extension System

Updating the National Ag Safety Agenda

In 2003, the North Central Education/Extension Activity (NCERA) 197 developed the National Land-Grant Research and Extension Agenda for Agricultural Safety and Health: National Agenda for Action. The agenda prioritized 12 areas with research and extension gaps. As part of NCERA-197, University of Nebraska and Penn State University are taking the lead on updating the national agricultural safety and health agenda.
